The following rights are reserved by the Applicant(s): the right to establish the patentability of the claimed invention over any of the listed documents should they be applied as reference, and/or the right to prove that some of these documents may not be prior art, and/or the right to prove that some of these documents may not be enabling for the teachings they purport to offer.

This statement should not be construed as a representation that an exhaustive search has been made, or that information more material to the examination of the present application does not exist. As cited in attached form PTO-1449, Applicant made and used a client-server software package which was operable to remotely monitor only AC plant characteristics more than one year prior to the filing of the present application. The client-server based package enabled the user to remotely monitor the AC plant characteristics, and perform a remote startup of the AC plant.

As cited in attached form PTO-1449, Applicant made and used a backup generator having a dialup connection, which was operable to reply to requests for data from the AC plant. The dialup connection was made and used more than one year prior to the filing of the present application. The dialup connection was an ASCII interface, could only manage one location at a time, and required that the technician call the number, connect to the AC plant, and inquire manually for each item of information desired. The dialup connection did not allow for remote startup of the AC plant, nor could a technician determine whether the AC plant was running without calling the site to inquire.

It is requested that the information disclosed herein be made of record in this application and that the Examiner initial and return a copy of the enclosed PTO-1449 to indicate the documents have been considered.

Respectfully Submitted,
